Sept 3 THE SOUND OF THE SHOFAR

I want to set forth my personal endorsement of Dr. Jim Fleming, Director of Bibical Resources Study Center, Jerusalem, Israel as our preacher for the Harrison-Shaw Preaching Mission, September 23-26.

I first heard Jim lecture in Tiberius at the Sea of Galilie in 1977, and then again in 1982 in Jerusalem. In 1984 and 1986 I studied with Jim at the Jerusalem Center for Biblical Studies. I learned more about the Bible from Jim in a few weeks than I learned in two years of seminary.

In 1987 Jim spoke at Lee's Chapel and at a Greensboro District Ministers Meeting. While there he stayed at the parsonage. Several people drove 40 miles in order to hear him speak. If you saw any of the videos in the series entitled "Jesus Christ" you may remember that Jim made these for Cokesbury. Just prior to coming to be with us he will be at Cokesbury in Nashville helping make another U.M. video "Disciple II".

Jim links historical geography and biblical history with the bibical text. His purpose is to unite theology and faith.

I challenge you not to miss these opportunities to hear one of the best and world-renowned Bible scholars of our time.

Bill

SOUND OF THE SHOFAR

In reply to many questions, yes, Dr. Jim Fleming will be preaching for our congregation on Sunday, September 23, at 11:00 A.M. Since he does not serve a church his schedule is more flexiable than other past mission preachers who did serve a church. Jim will preach on "Praying In the Character of Jesus." This will be the only service for which he will not be using slides to illustrate his sermons. Having Jim with us on Sunday morning before our ninth Harrison - Shaw Preaching Mission begins on Sunday night will give us a chance to get to know Jim on a more personal level. With a great respect for his academic credentials, scholary acumen, and his commanding speaking ability, the personal assepct of Jim's life is the one I appreciate the most. For it is his personality which reflectes the depth of his faith. I have never studied with anyone who displays such a depth of personal concern for each one of his students as Jim does. Students can be poles apart in their theological positions, yet the class atmosphere never gets abrasive. I believe this happens due to Jim's gentle way of including each person and making each one feel important. On Sunday, September 16, Jim spoke to over four-thousand people in five services in First UMC, Houston. I can only say come, see and listen and I believe you will return.

A MINISTRY SINCE 1847

Dear Fellow Minister,

I urge you and your congregation to attend the Harrison Shaw Preaching Mission at Trinity in September 23-26, 1990.

Dr. Jim Fleming, Executive Director of Biblical Resources Study Center, in Jerusalem, Israel, will be our guest preacher and lecturer.

Without qualification I can say that Jim is the most outstanding teacher with whom I have studied. I have followed him all over Israel; on top of the mountains, in the Galilee, in limestone caves, in tombs of the first and second centuries, in the valley where David fought Goliath, under the Temple Mount in Jerusalem, and other Biblical sites too numerous to list here.

Jim received his Doctorate of Education from Southwestern Baptist Seminary. His doctorate focused on teaching by the use of slides on the historical, geographical and archaeological aspects of the Holy Land.

Dr. Fleming produced the VCR series "Jesus Christ" for Cokesbury, The United Methodist Publishing House, which offers denominational materials for Episcopalians, Presbyterians, and United Methodist.

His lectures include new insights from archaeological discoveries, historical and geographical settings, the teachings of Jesus, the life of Simon Peter, and various theological themes.

Prior to coming to Asheville, Jim will be lecturing in Asia, Australia, Great Britain and at other places in the U. S.

Ninety-nine percent of those who hear Jim lecture or study with him want to hear him again. His method of teaching in Israel is three-fold:

First, he tells you what you are going to see and do.
Second, you go on the site with him for the lecture.
Third, when you return from the site you are shown slides of what you have seen.

This is one of the best opportunities you will have to hear and meet a great Bible scholar and teacher of our time. Looking forward to seeing you at the Harrison Shaw Preaching Mission in September.

Sincerely,

Bill

Dear Mary Jo:

I do appreciate the invitation to lunch with your Harrison-Shaw teacher/preacher. He sounds like an exciting man from all reports I've received. But, alas, the Bishop has thrown a monkey wrench into the works for me, at least. He has called a luncheon meeting with some of the potential major givers in the Conference concerning the eight million dollar campaign which the Conference is currently involved in, and I guess I have to go to his luncheon. I had suggested that he might want to change to the 25th, but there seems to be some conflict with him on that date.

In any case I appreciate the invitation and hope that most of our ministers will plan to attend. We've tried to promote it as best we can.

Appreciate all you do!

Cordially yours,

J. B. Golden

BIOGRAPHICAL INFORMATION

DR. JIM FLEMING

Biblical Resources Study Center
Jerusalem, Israel

Dr. Jim Fleming is Director of Biblical Resources Study Center in Jerusalem, Israel, an ecumenical organization serving the world body of Christ. He is, also, President of Biblical Resources which produces audio-visual aids for teaching Bible history and Director of the newly constructed Biblical Resources Pilgrim Center on the slope of Tantur, site of the Ecumenical Institute for Theological Studies and Biblical Resources Study Center.

Dr. Fleming has lived and worked in Israel since 1974. During these sixteen years, he has developed courses of study in historical geography and biblical history uniquely tying the studies with the biblical text and emphasizing the wedding together of theological/faith relationship. He served as Director and Academic Dean of the Jerusalem Center for Biblical Studies from 1980 to April 1987 when he chose to devote full time to his Biblical Resources Study Center and to further develop media aids for biblical teaching.

Having studied in the United States and Israel, Dr. Fleming holds an Ed.D degree from Southwestern Theological Seminary. In Israel, he teaches at the School for Overseas Students, Hebrew University, whose director has referred to Dr. Fleming's media lecture room as "the most sophisticated teaching center in the middle-east"

Many of his teaching aids are in use by theological institutions formerly known as "behind the iron curtain". As a cartography consultant with the Curriculum Department of the Israeli Ministry of Education, he illustrates government textbooks with maps and photographs teaching biblical history. Dr. Fleming also works with the Israeli Ministry of Tourism teaching guides about important sites of New Testament and Byzantine periods of history.

Special courses have been designed and taught to the hearing impaired and for the blind by Dr. Fleming using relief maps and models he constructed especially for teaching biblical history and geography to these persons. Replicas of these maps and models have been reproduced by his company, "Relief Maps of Israel", and distributed to hundreds of academic institutions around the world.

The new Pilgrim Center created by Dr. Fleming at Biblical Resources includes a Scripture Garden which features archaeological reconstructions of subjects from the Biblical World as well as an authentic Last Supper/Passover meal served in a restored Roman Villa. The international edition of TIME magazine (March 27, 1989) has rated this first century life presentation among world class travel experiences.

Dr. Fleming is a member of the Advisory Board and has contributed articles to "Biblical Archaeology Review", the largest circulation magazine in the field of archaeology. He is listed as adjunct faculty in the catalogues of a number of graduate schools which regularly accept accreditation.

In addition to 1990 Lecture Tours in Geneva, Switzerland; Great Britain, and Australia, Dr. Fleming will return to the Far East for lecture series in Taiwan, Hong Kong, Singapore and Jakarta. Annually, he lectures in the United States where he is much in demand as a Bible scholar.

In addition the Biblical Resources Study Center offices in Israel and the United States, Dr. Fleming also has offices in London, England serving Great Britain and in Taipei, Taiwan serving Asia.

Call to care about drugs/alcohol

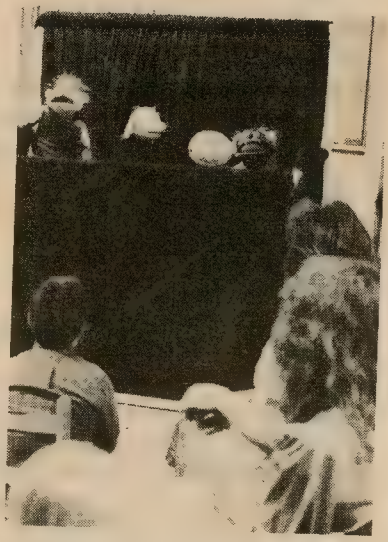
ASHEVILLE — The "Call to Care...About Drug and Alcohol Concerns" is a continuing program adopted by the Western North Carolina Conference to address the need of the local church to, first, develop awareness of the addiction and abuse problems and, then, to address them within the local community.

Churches throughout the Conference have been asked to give attention to the drug and alcohol problems in our society on two special Sundays during the church year, the third Sunday in May and the second Sunday in December. Both Sundays are during seasons of the year when there are celebrations within the family lives of church members. Graduation, Mothers Day and Fathers Day and the celebration of Christ's birth are times that bring families together in a covenant of support for each other. It is also a time when those who are alone or spiritually lost, seek help from alcohol and other drugs.

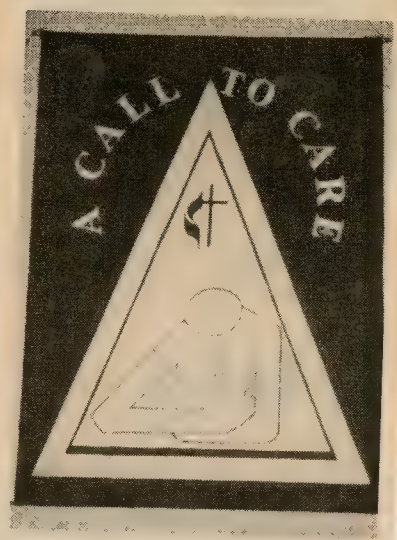
On the Sundays designated last December and this May, churches around the Conference involved church members and people representing many outside agencies in presentations either during the worship service, the Sunday school hour, or at other church events. Speakers included members of the NC Highway Patrol, local social services case workers, pharmacists, sheriff deputies, and drug rehabilitation counselors. The next Call To Care Sunday is set for the second Sunday in Advent, Dec. 9.

The "Call to Care" emblem, developed by the national church, has been adopted by the Standing Committee on Drug and Alcohol Concerns as the symbol to guide the work in the area of drug abuse of the WNC Conference. A banner was made and donated by Mary Jo Harrison, a member of Trinity Church in Asheville and hung in the auditorium at Lake Junaluska during annual conference. The banner will serve as a focal point for activities planned by the Standing Committee.

"Kinds of Drugs Found in Davidson County and How to Tell If Someone is Abusing Drugs" was presented by Davidson County Deputies to Adult Sunday School classes at Midway Church in the Lexington District.



"Alcohol On Trial" puppet show performed by sixth grade Sunday School class at Midway Church in Davidson County.



"Call to Care" banner made and donated by Mary Jo Harrison, Trinity Church, Asheville.
